Night of the Living Ales Returns.

Bob Dompier, General Manager for the Heritage Inn stated; "A couple of years ago, we brought back an adult Halloween costume party and it was a huge hit with Great Falls. The Night of the Living Ales" Halloween costume party of the year is back on Saturday October 19th and we expect a sold-out crowd this year".

The Heritage Inn will transform into a spooky and creepy decorated hall of horrors with monstrous tunes from DJ Sully, a limbo contest, over 10 Ales from Eagle Beverage and of course, "finger food". If you've missed having an adult costume party, then you'll love the Night of the Living Ales sponsored by STARadio and the Heritage Inn with ales from Eagle Beverage.

Jim Senst of STARadio added; "We have partnered once again with Act Normal Theater Productions to provide a variety of spooky scenes, games and props for the event. They always bring a unique setting to the party and this year their theme is Bobs Burgers".

Dave Irvin of Eagle Beverage stated: "this is a tremendous opportunity for the Halloween lovers to sample a variety of craft beers from local and regional brewer's including. Irvin also went on to say domestic beer including Bud and Bud Light will also be available and a bottomless souvenir stein until 11pm."

No one under 21 admitted, tickets $35 in advance, $40 day of the event, $5 military discount and available at The Heritage Inn, Super One Foods, Kaufman's Men's Wear Center, The Alumni Club, and both Albertsons locations. Doors Open at 6pm Saturday October 19th with complimentary finger food, complimentary ales and domestic beers from 6pm to 11pm with games to benefit the Act Normal Theatre Group.
